Any of you brave the heat down here in Katy, Texas?

It is funny to see Katy, Texas on the forum. I went to school in Katy and live in Cypress now. There are a few Houston runners that pop up every now and then. Where do you run at?

Another Katy, TX runner here!

I'll run at Cullen Park, Terry Herschy, or Bear Creek Park. I've also run at Houston's Memorial Park but the drive/traffic is to much to get to routinely.

My family just moved to Katy but I go to school In VA. I just run the Cinco Ranch neighborhood right now, and there are so many great paths!

Do you run mornings - it just seems to hot down here to do it any other time? Although it's not been TOO bad (I've lived in TX two times before but was never a runner till now).
